

SIR THOMAS MAKES ANOTHER TRIAL.

Englishman's Last Bid For The American Cup.

As Heretofore Reliance Leads in The Race.

Wind Becomes Light and There is Doubt About Finishing This The Third Race Within the Time Limit—How the Boats Are Sailing.

Highlands off Navesink, N. J. Aug. 31.—Sir Thomas will make what will probably be his last bid for the American cup today when he sends his Shamrock III. out to the Sandy Hook vessel to meet the American defender Reliance in the third race in the American cup series. Two defeats have already been chalked up against the cup hunting Englishman and the race today will in all probability, decide the series and the historic old mug may still remain in the prize room of the New York Yacht Club for some time to come. Sir Thomas Lipton has said that until England has produced a Herreshoff it would be useless for him to challenge again, so that the contest today will see the last of a sloop bidding for cup honors carrying a rectangle flag with a green shamrock on a yellow background, at the tip of the topmast. The contest today will be the re-sailed race of last Thursday.

The warning gun was fired at 11:40 and for five minutes Barr and Wringe fought it out, the Englishman doing his level best to shake the American off.

Before the starting gun was fired the Shamrock and the Reliance broke out their baby jib topsails and stood for the line on the starboard tack.

The American had a good burst of speed on and shot over the line 30 seconds ahead of the Englishman. The Shamrock being left behind and having her wind clear, was able to pinch out a bit and cross the line a little to the weather of Reliance's wake.

The yachts stood across the line on the starboard tack and headed towards the Long Island shore.

At 11:51 Captain Wringe finding that he was being left behind, tacked ship to port. Captain Barr, however, seeing that the wind was lightening did not propose to let the Britisher pick up any favoring slants, and 30 seconds after the Shamrock had tacked ship he came about to port.

Highlands, N. J., Aug. 31.—8 a. m.—Wind 23 knots from northeast. The sea is rough.

9:00 a. m.—Headsails set up in both yachts and mainsails hoisted. Shamrock in tow of tug cruiser leaves for the starting line. Reliance in tow of the tug Guiding Star leaves for lightship.

10:10 a. m.—Shamrock reached light ship, drops tow, breaks out headsails and stands way on port tack. Wind is about 15 miles.

10:16 a. m.—Reliance reaches lightship and after dropping tow, stands away on port tack.

10:37 a. m.—The start postponed until later in the day. The starting line will be shifted.

11 a. m.—The yacht committee boat has anchored and is preparing a course for today's race.

11:10 a. m.—The course for today's race has been signalled east half north to the turning line and run home.

11:40 a. m.—Warning gun was fired at 11:40 a. m.

11:45 a. m.—Starting gun fired. Starting time: Reliance 11:45:50; Shamrock 11:46:20.

11:58 a. m.—Reliance and Shamrock were put about on starboard tack. Reliance gaining rapidly on challenger.

12:12 p. m.—Both racers were put about on port and headed out to sea.

12:18 p. m.—Yachts still on port tack. Reliance still increasing her lead. Wind six knots.

12:40 p. m.—Reliance is a half mile in the lead.

12:07 p. m.—It is doubtful now if the yachts finish in the time limit. The wind has dwindled to six knots.

1:25 p. m.—The yachts have been lost in the mist for 25 minutes. An aërograph received at 1:25 says the Reliance leads by a mile.

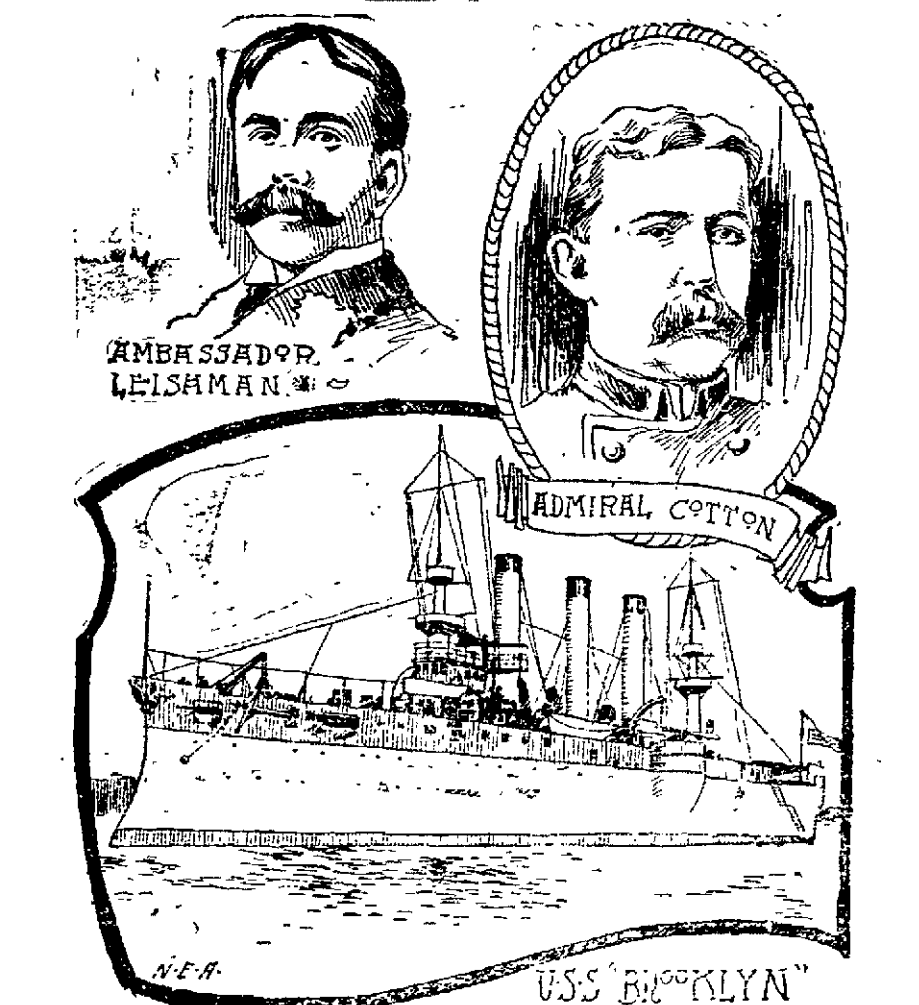

1:42 p. m.—Wind off shore is very light and the yachts may not finish in the time limit.

JOHNSON & CO. SUSPEND.

New York, Aug. 31.—(Bulletin)—R. J. Johnson and Company, members of the New York Cotton Exchange, have just announced their suspension.

Troy, N. Y., Aug. 31.—A fire that was discovered this morning destroyed the four story brick buildings from 441 to 419 River street. The firemen succeeded in saving the Royal theatre on the south and the collar factory of H. C. Curtis & Co., on the north, both of which were in some danger. The loss will approximate $100,000 and is insured.

CRUISER BROOVLN, ADMIRAL COTTON AND AMBASSADOR LEISHMAN.

Washington, Aug. 31.—The Brooklyn, flagship of Admiral C. F. Cotton's European squadron, which has departed in haste for Beirut, where the American vice consul, Mr. Magelssen, was shot at, was built in 1895, and had her baptism of fire at Santiago, when, with Admiral Schley aboard, she did the most important work in the destruction of Cervera's fleet. The Brooklyn is of 9215 tons, is 400 feet long and 65 feet beam, and has a crew of 500 men. On her trial trip she reached a speed of 21.9 knots an hour, but at Santiago, without her forward engines, she made 16 knots, in the chase after the Christobal Colon. She has 36 guns, four Gatlings and five torpedo tubes. Her horsepower, under forced draught, is 16,000. The Brooklyn is armoured.

CLAIMS TO MAKE THE DEAF HEAR

Marion, Ind., Aug. 31.—Dr. J. H. Forrest, ex-president of the state health board, has demonstrated that deafness in many forms, can be cured by the use of the Finsen rays.

He announces that he has successfully experimented on himself, a deaf girl aged 17, and a boy.

The girl had been deaf since birth and the boy for three years. The apparatus used by Dr. Forrest is a modification of the Finsen apparatus, the rays being induced from static electricity.

NEW LAW

MEANS PASSING OF NEW YORK NEWSIES FROM VIEW.

Little Tots Must Go to School While Permits Are Given Those of a Certain Age.

New York, Aug. 31.—With the coming of September there will pass from the streets of New York the picturesque urchin of tender years, who sells newspapers for a living. That is the small "newsies" will pass if the law which goes into effect Sept. 1, is rigidly enforced and the officer upon whom devolves its enforcement declares it will be.

The law provides that no male child under 10 and no girl under 16 years shall, in any city of the first class, sell, or expose, or offer for sale newspapers on any street, or public place. No boy "actually or apparently under 14 years of age" shall sell or expose for sale any newspaper unless a permit and badge have been issued by the district superintendent of the board of education on the application of the parent, guardian or other person having custody of the boy desiring such permit.

The district superintendent is required to examine, approve and place on file satisfactory proof that such boy is 10 years of age or upward. If the proof is satisfactory the district superintendent may then issue a permit and badge.

The permit will contain a full description of the boy to whom it is issued—the color of hair, eyes, height, weight and any distinguishing facial characteristic. The badge must be worn conspicuously at all times when the boy is at work. The badge is to be numbered corresponding to the number on the permit, and shall have on its face the name of the boy and his signature on the reverse side.

Any boy between the age of 10 and 14 selling newspapers without a permit and badge, "must be arrested and brought before a court or magistrate having jurisdiction to commit a child to an incorporated charitable reformatory or other institution and be dealt with according to law."

ANOTHER TRANSCONTINENTAL AMERICAN RAILROAD

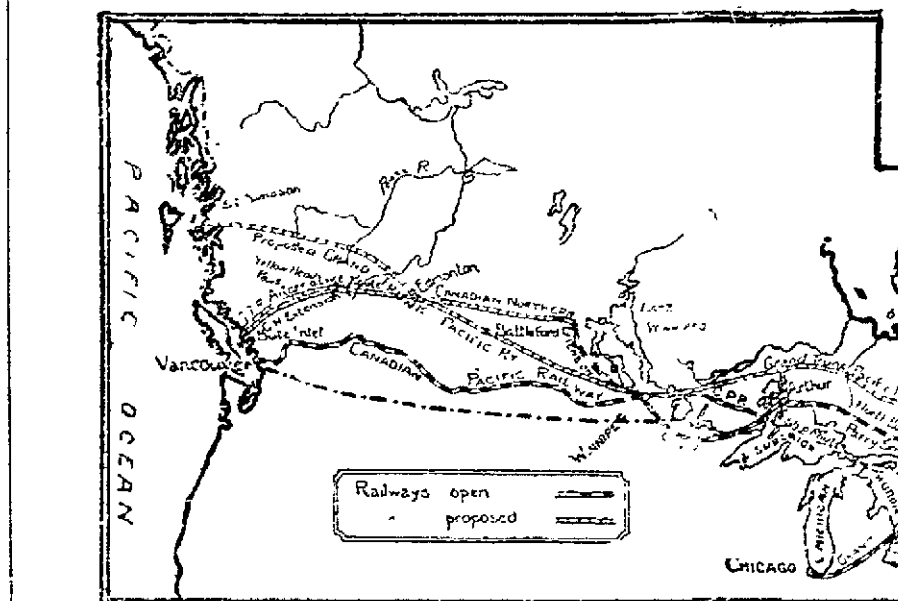

IT WILL REACH THROUGH THE WILDS OF NORTHERN CANADA FROM OCEAN TO OCEAN AND CANADIAN GOVERNMENT WILL START BUILDING IT AT ONCE.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—Work will be started in a month on another transcontinental American railroad which is to join the two oceans and the Canadian government, which will build the line, proposes to complete the project within a three-year limit.

The route as far west as Winnipeg has been decided upon. The line will start in the east at Moncton, New Brunswick. A short line connects Moncton with St. John and thereby secures to the new road the double outlet into the gulf of St. Lawrence.

Grand Trunk railroad for 50 years, on the conditions that for the first five years the company pays no rental to the government, for the second five it pays the net surplus receipts over the working expenses, and for the remaining 40 years it pays 3 per cent on the cost of construction. The government will guarantee the bonds for the line from Winnipeg to Port Simpson or to Bute Inlet, which will be built by the company.

The work between Moncton and Winnipeg, which begins in a few weeks and into the bay of Fundy. Proceeding via Quebec, the line traverses northern Ontario, and passing north of Lake Nipigon, enters Winnipeg.

From Winnipeg west to the Pacific ocean there are two routes under consideration, both passing through Edmonton. Port Simpson, in the north, is more favored as the Pacific terminal than Bute Inlet on the south.

The Canadian government, after long debate, has decided to build the road itself, afterwards leasing it to the

MOTHER JONES

Doesn't Think That President Roosevelt is the Friend of Labor—An Interview.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 31.—Mother Jones stopped in this city to visit Eugene V. Debs on her way to Clinton, Iowa, where she is to speak on Labor Day. Speaking of her visit to Oyster Bay, she said:

"President Roosevelt's secretary told me that the President was on record as being against child labor, but I cannot see how that is true. He has not been the friend of labor. As governor of New York he sent the militia to shoot the men at Croton dam who refused to work for a dollar a day when they had been promised $1.50. When in Standford City, W. Va., United States deputy marshals shot men before they were out of bed, he made no protest, although later he sent a protest to Russia about the treatment of the Jews. He was not looking out for the children of the men he permitted to be shot down in Standford City without protest."

MR. BRYAN

Will Speak at Versailles, Columbus and Marion, Ohio, This Week—Not at Toledo.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 31.—The story that Mr. Bryan had canceled his dates to speak in Ohio is denied by Mr. Bryan. He says the only date he has canceled is that at Toledo tonight. He could not get there in time. He says he will speak at Versailles, Columbus and Marion and that he will not discuss Clarke till he knows more about that gentleman's position on vital questions. Mr. Bryan will speak at the State Fair.

A BIG SINKHOLE TROUBLES ROAD

Springfield, O., Aug. 31.—The Urbana, Bellefontaine and Northern railway company is grappling with a curious problem.

A sinkhole has appeared on its road near West Liberty. It is similar to the Wabash sinkhole in Indiana, which is attracting so much attention.

Already over 16,000 cubic yards of dirt have been dumped in to the hole without making any visible impression. The hole is about seven feet in depth. The peculiar feature about it is that it continues to slide sideways.

CLASH

BETWEEN STRIKERS AND NON-UNION MEN

Of Which Two Lost Their Lives—A Struggle on Ferry and Fall Into River.

Bellaire, O., Aug. 31.—A clash between the striking machinists of the National Tube Company's Riverside works and nonunion men occurred here Saturday midnight in which two young men lost their lives.

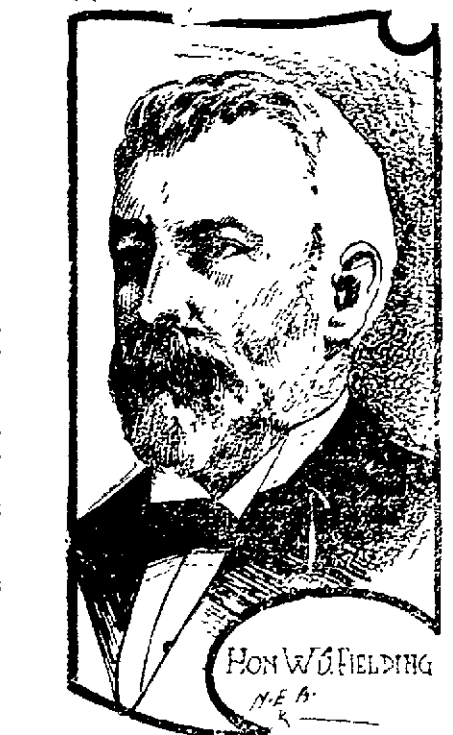

Fred Williams, with two other nonunion men, left the works and came across the Ohio river to have a time. When they arrived on this side they separated so they would not be known and proceeded to fill up on whisky. Williams, while in a saloon made the brag that he was a nonunion man and well able to take care of himself, flourishing a revolver. It soon got to the ears of the strikers, of whom a great many live in this city, and they started out to find him.

He was located about midnight and was taken to task for his bragging. He saw that he was about to get into trouble, took to his heels and made a dash for the ferry boat, with two of the strikers after him. He reached the boat just as it was pulling out with about 25 passengers for Benwood. They also got aboard and the ferry started across the river. Williams, when he got on the boat, ran to the other side and there the men overtook him and began to pummel him.

They knocked him down and in some manner he got up took hold of the guard rail, turned around, whipping out his revolver and fired a shot at them.

Just at this moment the guard rail slipped out from its fastening letting all three of the men fall into the river.

The boat was stopped and put back to the Ohio side and an effort was made to rescue them, but as the river was high they could not be found. The ferry then went over, and upon its return they found Williams hanging to the float. Williams was taken to the jail and locked up by an officer. The bodies of the young men have not been recovered. Williams says he thinks he shot Pracht when he fired.

TURKISH TEACHERS ADVOCATE SLAUGHTER

Thousand Bulgarian Insurgents are killed.

Uncle Sam's Warships on the way To Beirut.

Bulgaria Strengthens Her Army--Stabbings are of Daily Occurrence in the Town Where American Consul was Recently Attacked--News of the Situation.

Washington, Aug. 31.—(Bulletin)—It is today authoritatively stated at the state department that there is absolutely no truth in the cable from Constantinople saying that Minister Leishman has asked for the recall of the American squadron. The state department does not intend to ask for a change of the fleet's program.

London, Aug. 31.—The Klissura correspondent of the Birmingham Post today reports that stabbings are of daily occurrence at Beirut. English archdeacon, who recently attacked in broad daylight the correspondent, warmly praises the Syrian protestant college, saying: "It is a superb organization, due primarily to the generosity of American subscribers. Beirut owes more than would be recognizable on the surface to the devotion of American philanthropists."

Belgrade, Aug. 31.—Serbian volunteers are flocking to the support of the Macedonian revolutionists. After a big meeting held here yesterday 200 well armed volunteers left for Macedonia. Their action is an evidence of the ferment that exists in all the autonomous Balkan states.

APPEAL TO POPE.

Rome, Aug. 31.—The Bulgarians and Macedonians have addressed to the Pope an appeal for assistance in their struggle against Turkey. They say that although they are not Catholic that they hope to receive from Pope Pius X. help that has been denied them by Russia.

NEW OUTBREAK.

Sofia, Bulgaria, Aug. 31.—Dispatches received from Constantinople, Salonica, Monastir and Adrianople reveal an equally unsatisfactory condition of affairs in Macedonia.

From Salonica comes reports of new risings. At Monastir the insurgents are said to be masters of the situation. Telegrams from Adrianople declare that the insurgent bands are continuing their ravages.

At the moment that the port is asking Belgium to supply officers for the Macedonian gendarmery, the Swedish ambassador at Constantinople has notified the Turkish government that unless they receive their pay immediately, the Turkish officers now at Uskub will leave the country.

A new outbreak is reported to have occurred in the environs of Salonica, and several skirmishes have taken place between Grevyneli and Salonica, and there has also been a fight near

PICNIC

Under Management of Board of Education of Granville Township, was a Complete Success.

The picnic under the management of the board of education of Granville township, which was held in a beautiful grove along the banks of historic Cat Run in McKean township, was a complete success.

The pleasant little valley with its rippling stream of clear water coursing its way between high cliffs of rocks and steep green foliage seemed to welcome with musical interest all who looked, as thousands have done before, with pleasure at the picturesque scenery of this noted spot.

The pleasant grounds afforded delight to the eyes and the well filled table was a source of comfort to the hungry, the demands that these failed to supply were fully met in the afternoon by listening to an interesting program arranged by W. H. Pittsford as president of the board.

Mr. Pittsford called the assembly to order, and in a clear way presented the object of the meeting.

The first was a recitation by John Palmer. John has won for himself an enviable reputation as a speaker.

The next speaker introduced was Prof. M. B. Price from Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Price, who was born and educated in Licking county, is a young man of sterling qualities and he has a wide range of power and influence as an educator.

Prof. Price took a decided stand against a centralized sub-district school, and produced convincing argument to maintain his position.

The Hon. L. B. Tussing was next introduced. Mr. Tussing is a prominent member of the Franklin county bar. He is owner of a large farm near Newark and spends a part of the summer months at this place.

The speaker reviewed a very inter-

INJUNCTION

Against Street Railway at Zanesville is Dissolved by Judge Frazier in Bailey Case.

Zanesville, O., Aug. 31.—In Common Pleas court Judge Frazier dissolved the injunction in the case of Willis Bailey vs. The Zanesville Railway, Light and Power Co. Mr. Bailey sought to enjoin the defendant from putting in a switch or double track in front of his property on Maple avenue.

The court held that the consent signed by Mr. Bailey in 1890 is still valid and that the company did not limit its lines to those put down at that time, but it has the right to construct switches as the needs of the public demand further improvements, without additional property consents.

The consent was broad and not limited to lines then put down.

The right of the company to construct a switch depends upon whether or not it is necessary and testimony introduced tended to show that it is and that a ten minute service is planned. The burden is on the property holders, however, to prove the switch is not necessary.

The property holder by acquiescence may lose his right to enjoin because of the alleged illegality of the ordinance granting franchises. This, the court held, was true in this case. The property owner cannot enjoin the use of a road built.

The changing of the gauge of the road does not alter the case, nor a change from a horse car line to an electric line.

The court held that ingress and egress to the Bailey property were not interfered with to an extent to warrant an injunction. If the right has been interfered with the plaintiff can test it in action at law.

The plaintiff excepted and has three days to give notice of appeal. It is not known whether or not the case will go higher.

Late News Dispatches Telling of Important Events in a Very Few Words.

Berlin, Aug. 31.—The King of Saxony is dangerously ill.

Montreux, Switzerland, Aug. 31.—Cardinal Gibbons has left this village for Paris.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 31.—Two men, supposed to be tramps, were burned to death in a box car today in a $10,000 fire at the Samuel H. Taft Lumber company's yards. Firemen might have saved the victims had they known of their peril, but it was not until long after the blaze was under control, an hour and a half after its start, that the fire fighters discovered that they had been walking upon the charred remains of two men. Not a fragment of clothing was left on the bodies that might have identified them.

London, Aug. 31.—The funeral of Lord Salisbury was conducted with impressive ceremony today at Hatfield. Simultaneously memorial services were held in Westminster Abbey. The services were made the occasion for an assemblage that included many of the most distinguished men in the kingdom. Ambassador Choate was there on behalf of the United States. Representatives of King Edward, Emperor William and other rulers were also in attendance.

Portland, Maine, Aug. 31.—The amount of money that Uncle Sam will be called upon to pay the people of Portland and vicinity as a result of the war game in Casco bay the past week may reach half a million dollars.

ROPES AS FIRE ESCAPES.

An Experience Which Shook One Man's Confidence in Them.

"Yes, I know that most of the boys carry a rope around with 'em," said the commercial traveler, "and the time was when I would not have taken the road without one, but I gave mine to my wife for an extra clothesline three or four years ago. I read occasionally of a rope saving somebody from a burning hotel, but I don't care to be saved that way."

"But you don't want to be burned with the hotel, do you?" was asked.

"Of course not, but if I can't get down by the stairs or the iron fire escape I'll take my chances on a mattress or a fireman's ladder."

"But what's the matter with a knotted rope?"

"I didn't think anything was the matter for many years. I used to go to bed feeling as safe as a baby in his crib, and if I found a traveler who didn't carry a fifty foot rope in his grip I set him down as a very reckless man. One day when I was in an Indiana town a lot of us got to talking about ropes and burning hotels, and a wall-eyed bluffer offered to bet me $5 to $1 that I couldn't slide down my rope from a third story window and not half kill myself. Of course I jumped at the bet, but he knew what he was talking about. I hadn't lowered myself six feet before the rope burned my hands and I let go and broke a leg. The trick was tried by three others and though they escaped broken bones they were badly shaken up and tongue bitten. After my leg mended I bluffed everybody I met on that rope business, and I never found a chap who could slide down two stories and feel good for a month after. A sailor could do it, of course, but I'm no sailor, and if ever I'm cut off by fire I'll take a ladder for the sidewalk and hope to hit a fat man as I come down."—Exchange.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling of many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

This Matter of Smoke.

We are sure that our view of the cigar business is unusual. Most druggists and all cigar dealers sell cigars to make money. We sell them to make friends—and money too in the long run. We want to get smokers into the store and let them judge what kind of a business we conduct by the kind of cigar they get. In cigars as in drugs we get the best that money can buy.

DR. HENRIK IBSEN IS DYING

THE GREAT NORWEGIAN DRAMATIST AND POET APPROACHING THE END—SKETCH OF GREAT WRITER'S CAREER.

Christiania, Norway, Aug. 31.—Dr. Henrik Ibsen, the great dramatist and poet, is dying at the age of 75.

This indignant and implacable old man, who has been misunderstood and maligned all his life has finished his life work and ranks as perhaps the greatest dramatist of modern times. He is the modern Homer in thought and power, the modern Shakespeare in art and fiction.

He was born at Skien, Norway, on March 20, 1828, and is of Danish, Teutonic and Scotch ancestry. At an early age he apprenticed himself to a chemist and came to Christiania in 1850 to study medicine. He was the director of the theater of Bergen from 1851-57 and director of the Norwegian theater until 1864, when he traveled all over the continent, living for various periods at Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Munich and remained away from his mother country for 10 years, only visiting it at intervals for the following 25 years. Of late years his home has been in the Norwegian capital.

Ibsen's early struggles up the ladder of fame were very much similar to those of Zola. His early efforts as a playwright were dismal failures. His first work was a schoolboy tragedy called "Catilina," which embodied his youthful revolutionary ideas. The play was produced three times and the biggest part of the edition of the piece was sold to a shopkeeper for wrapping paper, that the poor author might have the necessities of life for a few days.

His next effort was to publish a paper, which he called "The Man." It never had more than 100 subscribers, and sank Ibsen deeper and deeper in dire want. He wisely suspended the publication in a few weeks.

His experience as director of the Bergen and Norwegian theatres gave him surpassing knowledge of dramatic construction and his writings from that time on were the extreme contrast to his maiden efforts. They met with instant and widespread success.

Probably his best known works are "The Doll's House," "Ghosts," 1889, "When We Dead Awaken," and "Love's Comedy," 1900.

Ibsen has always remained indifferent to criticisms and impervious to personal attacks, impervious and shuddering not at such choice characterizations as "a crazy fanatic," "an egotist and a bungler," "a Zola with a wooden leg." He seemed to consider them as shortsighted compliments.

Of criticism he said:

"Well, I have stirred up the pool and I can wait till the water clears."

He has always held strange ideas about questions social, political and aesthetic. All his life he has been a doubter, a questioner, an exposé of hypocrisy and sham wherever found. His unique conception of "the state" is particularly revolutionary and has stirred up more political controversy in his native country than perhaps any of his other ideas. "The state," he says, "has its roots in time and will ripen and rot in time. Greater things than it will fall in time—even religion."

SHANGHAISERS ARE FOILED BY REVENUE CUTTER GRESHAM'S CREW

HUGH THOMPSON.

New York, Aug. 31.—Shanghaishers have become as bold as ever they were in the old days in San Francisco. The case of Hugh Thompson, the 16 year old boy taken from the French bark Marchal, by the crew of the revenue cutter Gresham, only after a desperate encounter on the bark's deck, throws light on a practice said to have been in operation for years. It is said the captain of the bark paid $25 to a "runner" for the boy. Under the guns of the cutter, the bark is being held until the treasury department investigates the charge of abduction. The boy signed no ship's papers, and this alone furnishes cause sufficient to hold the captain. Shipping men without signing them is punishable by a fine of $200.

LARGEST

Tree in the World—Oregon's Building at the Fair to be Made of Its Lumber.

St. Louis, Aug. 31.—The largest fir tree in the world will supply a portion of the lumber of the construction of Oregon's state building at the world's fair at St. Louis.

The Oregon building will occupy a site immediately north of the New York state building. The state legislature has made an appropriation of $50,000 for the world's fair, but a much greater sum will be available.

Five hundred thousand dollars have been appropriated by Oregon for the Lewis and Clark exposition, to be held in Portland, in 1905. The same commissioners will handle the exhibits for both fairs.

Many valuable exhibits prepared for the Portland exposition will be first displayed at the world's fair at St. Louis.

Splendid timber grows abundantly all over Oregon, but it is the Douglas fir that is known the world over.

The largest specimen of this timber in Oregon was felled at Aberdeen in May for exhibit at the world's fair.

The tree was 300 feet high and 40 feet in circumference at the base. It was 118 feet from the ground to the first limb. The age of this giant of the Oregon pineries is estimated to be over 400 years.

More ships carry masts of Oregon Douglas fir than any other timber. The largest and best flag staffs are supplied by trees from the same forests.

Other timbers and lumber will be shown, including especially maple, oak and ash.

Oregon's display of agricultural and horticultural products will be large. The prune industry of that state is exceedingly important, the crop in 1902 being valued at more than $3,000,000.

The Oregon fruit compares favorably with the famous French product. Small fruits also thrive in the state. In agriculture the exhibit will be largely based on wheat, oats, barley and the grasses.

INCREASE IN POPULATION.

The census bureau has issued a new bulletin on the increase of 12,000,000 in the population of the United States between 1890 and 1900. Our rate in increase of population is 20.07 and that is double the European average and nearly double that of Canada. When we take into consideration the fact that immigration records have been broken in the past several years, this increase in population noted is not surprising. The increase is greatest in the Atlantic states and there has actually been a decrease in percentage in the western states—states west of the Mississippi. This tends to show that the people who are pouring in from Europe are staying in the east about where they land.

An interesting feature of the bulletin is that the increase in the southern states shows a relatively uniform growth, and for the first time in our national history the south has had a greater percentage of increase than the north.

This proves the stability of the new south and a final recovery from slavery and the "late unpleasantness."

Whether Senator Gorman will elect to enter the field as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President will probably be determined at the Maryland state convention this month. A number of county conventions have already declared for him. It is proposed to have the state convention in one of the largest theaters in Baltimore, with a vast assemblage of Democrats in addition to the delegates who will nominate Edwin Warfield for governor, and join in a demonstration for Gorman as a presidential candidate.

It may be a trifle late to say anything about the frightful loss of life due to our modern method of celebrating the Fourth of July, yet the compilation made by the Journal of the American Medical Association is worth more than a passing mention. That paper has made a careful investigation and authenticated every case. The result shows that the total number of deaths or severe injury was 4,458. Of these 415 deaths were due to tetanus, 60 resulted from the use of fireworks or explosives not causing lockjaw, 10 persons were made blind, 71 lost one eye each, 54 lost hands, arms, or legs, 174 lost one or more fingers and 3,070 received other severe injuries.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea, summer complaint of any sort if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

IN HER SLEEP

Beautiful Girl Arcse and Cut Off Her Silken Tresses—A Remarkable Case.

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 31—Miss Blanche Pacetti, a society girl of this place, is in hysterics over the loss of her hair, which was said to be the most magnificent in the state.

While in a somnambulistic trance Miss Pacetti sheared away her beautiful tresses. Her hair reached to her feet, and was of fine color and silky texture. It was a "joy forever" to her and her parents. Saturday night she retired in perfect health. She is not somnambulistic and she knows of no reason why she should have arisen in the night. But she did, and while asleep she walked to a table on which her scissors laid, and picking them up, cut off her hair, close to the scalp leaving the coil on the table. The scissors she took back to the bed and placed on the floor by the bedside.

When Miss Pacetti awoke she noticed a strange lightness about her head. She raised her hands and was horrified to discover the loss of her hair. She screamed and when her mother came both were overcome.

With the exception of a few hundred inaccessible heathens on the east coast of Greenland with its 10,000 population, is now under a uniform Christian influence.

A DIZZY TIME IN PORKTOWN.

Chardon, O., Aug. 31—By mistake, a large jar containing several cans of fermented fruit, which was intended to be thrown away, was yesterday fed to the swine on the farm of P. F. Downey, near Burton. At noon three large porkers lay prostrated and their several companions were staggering about in an intoxicated condition. Mrs. Downey, a temperance worker, says she will use the incident in her lectures.

A REVOLUTION IN KANSAS

When the Harvey County, Kansas teachers ran up against the edict of the State Board of Education prohibiting courting by teachers during school terms, they passed this resolution: "Whereas, Our fathers came to Kansas in pursuance of a high and holy desire to establish the institutions of freedom and equality on Kansas soil, we, the undersigned, do hereby resolve, That we view with alarm the tendency of school boards of Kansas to adopt harsh and oppressive measures in restriction of our sacred and inalienable rights; that to submit to such tyranny would prove us to be unworthy children of such noble parentage; that a large per cent of our teachers being marriageable, we urge upon all the necessity of vigorous and unceasing rebellion against this attempt to deprive us of our rights to court and be courted."—News Items.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Beggar Prince Opera Company will close its engagement at Idlewild park with the performance next Saturday night. The company will have been here for four weeks, during which time they have met with the hearty support and approval of the lovers of tuneful and melodious light opera music.

Manager W. D. Harris has found that the people of Newark will support opera and has been most successful in catering to the public taste in securing the company which he did. He announces a triple bill for the coming week, during which there will be presented the three most popular operas that have been put on during the preceding three weeks. Monday and Tuesday, "Olivet" will be put on, Wednesday and Thursday "The Mascot," and Friday and Saturday, "Griffe-Griffa," with the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

The cast has been strengthened and the chorus augmented for the week, and Sid Riley, the musical director, has given special attention to the vocal numbers, which will be given an artistic and satisfying rendition.

FATHER GLADU

Priest Well Known in Licking County Died on Sunday at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Columbus, Aug. 31—Rev. Father Peter Gladu, aged 48, died at St. Anthony's hospital shortly after noon yesterday, of disease of the lungs.

Father Gladu who was a man of great ability was connected with the church of St. Peter and Paul at Wellston until his health broke down two years ago.

He went of New Mexico in an effort to regain his health, and when he realized that an early death was inevitable he came to St. Anthony's hospital.

The funeral arrangements have not been entirely completed but the services will take place some time Wednesday from the cathedral.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 31—John Henderson, aged 56, swam from the Dalles to Straightlanding, Washington, a distance of 18 miles, in the icy Columbia yesterday. He intended to swim to Hood river, a distance of 23 miles, but rough water and a strong wind prevented.

Gallipolis, O., Aug. 31—The largest coal run in the history of the Kanawha river leaves for Cincinnati today. Twenty two boats from Pittsburgh with six million bushels of coal will pass here for Cincinnati and Louisville. This is the first rise at this time of the year known to river men in 20 years. The river rose seven feet last night.

Your Health Depends on Your Kidneys

Every Reader Should Test the Wonderful Merits of this Great New Discovery

IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS

If you wish to be rich in health, you should be careful of your KIDNEYS as a good financier is of his cash capital. Your KIDNEYS are your capital. Your health depends principally on them. If you keep THEM well you may possess your health in safety. Now by this is not meant that good financing for your health is to overlook all the other organs and merely look after your KIDNEYS. Your other organs may need care, but your KIDNEYS most because they do most. If you are sick begin with your KIDNEYS, because just as soon as they are well, they will help all the other organs to health.

For a great many years it has been the custom for people to say: "My Blood is out of order, it needs purifying, I feel all used up, my skin needs clearing, my Brain feels tired." They are right, but do they act right? They generally go and get a laxative to purify their blood; but does blood run through the bowels?

Science proves that all the purifying that your blood needs, in fact all that can be done, must be done by your KIDNEYS. The KIDNEYS are filters. They strain and purify your blood. When your blood is impure nothing can purify but your KIDNEYS. When the KIDNEYS are clogged from overwork of any kind, worry, exposure or excesses, they can be set right by that wonderful new remedy known as IRVING'S BUCHU WAFERS. They are a small wafer and pleasant to take. They are not a patent medicine or secret remedy, and the formula is cheerfully furnished to the numerous physicians who prescribe them in their practice, recognizing the efficiency of their ingredients, such as Buchu, Juniper Berries, Asparagus, and other valuable and purely vegetable extracts, which are so concentrated as to make them more than double their value.

HUMBLE HOME WHERE THE NEW POPE WAS BORN.

WAS A BAREFOOT BOY WHO TRUDGED SEVEN MILES TO SCHOOL EVERY DAY—THE HOUSE ALMOST BARREN OF FURNITURE, BUT NOW THE MECCA OF THE CURIOUS—HIS OLD ROOM 5x5 FEET.

THE POPE'S MOTHER, HIS BEDCHAMBER, THE DINING ROOM OF THE SAINT'S HOMESTEAD AND THE CHURCH WHERE HE WAS CHRISTENED.

Venice, Aug. 31—Riese, an humble country town of scarcely 300 inhabitants, in the province of Treviso, Italy northwest of this city, heretofore very little known and unimportant, has become suddenly conspicuous through the name of the new pontiff, Pius X, who was born there, and it is now a mecca for reporters, picture takers and sightseers.

To reach Riese one must go first by way of Vicenza, to Castelfranco, a larger town seven miles away, where there is a characteristic fortress built by the Trevigians in 1199 at the crossroads of Treviso, Vicenza, Padua and Bassano.

It was at Castelfranco that the new Pope went to school when a boy. He used to walk the seven miles back and forth every day, barefooted, carrying the shoes on his shoulders, to save the wear.

The Sarto house at Riese is far from pretentious. It is a one-story building, with eight windows symmetrically disposed, four above, four on the ground level, and a little door with house number 5 upon it.

I entered the house, taking off my hat. A sweet, girlish voice called out: "Amelia!"

"I beg your pardon, sir," said a sprightly maiden, in a very courteous manner, "but, really, it is not worth while to visit this little house, specially now that there is nothing in it. The house is empty. We had to give the furniture to our brother, Don Giovanni, now that he has been elected parish priest of Posagno."

At the entrance there was nothing but a table and a mantel-piece, on which were set in order a dozen of glittering candlesticks and some old brass lamps. On the shelf all round the ambient, there was an exhibition of earthenware of very ordinary grade. Near by was another room almost empty, but it had two pictures on the walls; the one of Leo XIII, and the other of Giuseppe Sarto, patriarch of Venice, now Pius X. It was the dining room. A short wooden staircase leads up to the floor above.

"Which is the room where the Pope was born?" I asked.

"Please, sir, don't go through it; there is nothing to see, it is empty."

In fact, the room was barren, with the exception of a board which rested on the wall and some insignificant pictures. The room measured 5x5.

"Was it in this room that his eminence lived when he came home to visit his parents?"

"No, sir; he used to come up here only to write, and stayed at the convent of the Nuns, nearby, at Crespano."

"So, then, you are a relative of his?"

"Yes, sir, I am his niece, the daughter of the sister of his holiness."

At this moment, Giovanni Parolin, the husband of Teresa Sarto, sister of the Pope, entered the house. He is a sturdy fellow, full of mirth and boisterous. He keeps an inn where all the family of the new Pope lives. It is a patriarchal group, modest and happy, which in its new joy turns over with lively satisfaction the leaves of the golden book of their humble origin.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. Its sufferers eat not because they want to, but simply because they must. They know they are irritable and fretful; but they cannot be otherwise. They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, an uneasy feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn and what not.

WILL WATCH WOODRUFF

Cleveland, O., Aug. 31—There is great hopes at Illinois that Coach Woodruff will turn out a team that will defeat Chicago and other high class western college teams this fall, and restore to Illinois much of its lost football prestige.

The greatest drawback in producing a winning team at Illinois is the hot weather of September and the early part of October. To get the team in condition for early games, it is necessary to do much hard work with the thermometer close to summer heat, and it saps the vitality of the players to a marked extent.

While the warm weather of that latitude is an advantage in baseball, it is a decided disadvantage in football. To avoid the hot weather this fall the football squad has been taken to Spring Lake, Mich., by Coach Woodruff, and will practice there till the second week in September, when school opens.

Woodruff was the originator of the famous guards back formation, which was first taught by him at Pennsylvania, and which has since been used by every college football team in the country. He began work at Illinois last spring, and, although there were no scrimmages, all the big fellows who came out were thoroughly schooled in the rudiments of the game. Woodruff has a reputation in the east of being able to teach each spring some surprise on opposing teams, and his work at Illinois will be watched with interest.

This is Illinois' second experience with a "Pen" coach, "Bucky" Vahl, the great quarter, proving a frost.

Smith, Holt and Poe, of Princeton, have achieved indifferent results with Illinois teams. Sanford, of Columbia, did not do much better. "Boss" Hall from Dartmouth, did the best, but football in the west had not then reached its present state of perfection.

Geo. Huff, the successful baseball coach was only fair as a football coach, as judged by results, and so it is up to Woodruff, student of football, both east and west, have much confidence in him.

STINE

SHOWS IMPROVEMENT AT THE CITY HOSPITAL.

Declares He Has No Idea Why Nichols Shot Him—X Rays May be Used to Locate Bullet.

Edward Stine, who is still at the hospital, suffering from bullet wounds inflicted by Orrin Nichols, passed a very comfortable night Sunday, and on Monday was in better shape than he has been since he was shot, and the physicians are of the opinion that he will now undoubtedly recover. It is probable that there has been a blood clot on the brain, which is being dissolved and absorbed, with the result that rational consciousness is rapidly returning.

Stine Monday morning gave a clear account as to the shooting, and the events leading up to it. He said he regarded Nichols as a friend, but not an intimate, and that he had no idea why he should have been shot by Nichols. He does not remember what the conversation was about immediately before the shooting, which shows that it could not have had the least bearing upon Nichols' motive for the crime. Every detail is remembered by Stine as it occurred and had there been a quarrel or hot words, he would have certainly remembered it at this time, in connection with the shooting.

It is probable that the doctors will use X rays to locate the bullet in the young man's head, and if it is not likely to do any harm it will be let alone.

HER HEART WAS TAKEN OUT AND REPLACED

ALMA TOOMEY.

St. Louis, Aug. 31—Alma Toomey, 16, is the attractive, as well as fortunate survivor of a rare surgical operation. She left the City Hospital sound in health, after her heart had been lifted out, examined and replaced. The dangerous operation was performed to save her life. An angel man, infatuated with the girl, had attacked her with a knife. The blade severed arteries near her heart. To get at them and sew them together, the surgeons literally took out her heart. Two ribs had to be removed to get at this vital organ. The operation, however, was in every way a success.

LIVE WIRE

BURNS MRS. STEINKEMPER, OF SOUTH THIRD.

While on Roof She Accidentally Grasped Electric Light Wire and Was Rendered Unconscious.

Mrs. Steinkemper, wife of W. J. Steinkemper, the well known South Third saloonist was the victim of a peculiar accident on Saturday evening. Mrs. Steinkemper has been in the habit of hanging the washed clothes on a line on the flat roof of the extension of the saloon, which is only one story high. She went out on the roof Saturday evening to take in the clothes line and in reaching for it accidentally caught hold of a live electric wire. She was unable to let go, and received the full charge of electricity, burning her hand painfully and rendering her unconscious. When she fell her weight broke her hold on the wire. Mr. Steinkemper's attention was called to her by neighbors who found in an unconscious condition on the roof, and on closer examination discovered a hole that the electric fluid had burned through her shoe. Mrs. Steinkemper carried his wife into the house and Dr. McClure was summoned, who worked with her over half an hour before he succeeded in restoring her to consciousness.

She is resting easy at this writing, though unable to perform her household duties, and suffering greatly from the burn on her hand. It was a close call.

BURGLARY

At the Home of Mr. and Mrs. Orris McClelland Four Miles East of Newark Saturday.

A bold and successful burglary was perpetrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orris McClelland, formerly the residence of Mr. Thomas Monigomey, about four miles east of Newark, on the Zanesville road, on Saturday evening. The supposition, for various reasons, is that the burglary was committed on Saturday evening, although it was not discovered until Monday morning. Either during the absence of the family from the house, or while they busily engaged in another part of it, burglars entered one of the upstairs bedrooms and succeeded in getting away with a valuable gold watch, the property of Mrs. McClelland, and also a revolver. So far nothing else of value has been missed, although it is likely that other valuables have been taken. Mr. McClelland came to town Monday morning and notified the police of the burglary, and measures have been taken for the apprehension of the thieves. Mr. and Mrs. McClelland have no clue as to the identity of the burglars.

TURKISH TEACHERS

nouncing the departure with the cruisers Brooklyn and San Francisco for Beirut, there were no developments in the Turkish situation Sunday so far as Washington is concerned. No additional information came from United States Minister Leishman, Secretary Hay saying he had not heard from our minister to Turkey since Saturday.

The orders to Admiral Cotton to proceed to Beirut will be cancelled, it is authoritatively stated unless the President so directs. Such an order at this time, however, apparently would not avail anything, as the admiral is now on his way to Turkey.

The interview with Cheikh Bey, the Turkish minister, at his summer home at Sayville, Long Island, was a topic of almost general discussion in official circles. That the minister manifestly is perturbed over the situation of affairs in Turkey, is fully realized here. His uneasiness over the presence of an American fleet in Turkish waters, lest it be taken by the revolutionists as an evidence of the American government's sympathy with their cause, it is thought will not be strong enough reason for its withdrawal. The administration regards it as a sacred duty to see that prompt assistance and protection should be given American interests in the disturbed district and for this reason feel justified in having warships sent to Turkey.

With the departure of the cruisers Brooklyn and San Francisco for Beirut as announced by Admiral Cotton to the navy department, the entire European squadron is now on its way to the Turkish seaport. Admiral Cotton cable that he expected they will reach Beirut by Friday next.

REQUESTS WITHDRAWAL. London, Aug. 31—A dispatch from Constantinople, dated August 29, to the Exchange Telegraph company, says it is understood that after an interview with Foreign Minister Tewfik Pasha, Minister Leishman requested Washington to withdraw the European squadron which had been ordered to Beirut.

GETTING A MOVE ON. Genoa, Aug. 31—The United States cruisers Brooklyn and San Francisco sailed at 12:25 p. m. Sunday for Port Said, where they expect to find instructions indicating their future movements.

MAY JOIN UPRISING. Constantinople, Aug. 31—Pan-Slavist propagandists are arousing the people of old Serbia and news from there indicates danger that they will join in a general uprising.

FOR THE GIRL WHO GOLFS.

Chicago, Aug. 31—Brilliant stage lights, tinsel cloths, the effervescent music of the comic opera and the intoxicating applause and admiration of men who saw her pretty face and figure, were greater attractions to Victoria Ruth Pierce than afternoon tea parties in Austin. So, although her parents forbade it, the 17 year old girl ran away and became a chorus girl.

While papa and mamma were telling her about the wickedness of stage people, and resting secure that they had effectually rid Miss Victoria's mind of a fancy for the footlights, the daughter circumvented them and signed a contract to join a chorus.

As one of the "Gibson girls" in "The Tenderfoot," Miss Pierce played all through the engagement of the company in Chicago, and attracted the eyes of New York managers. Her parents, however, when "The Tenderfoot" engagement was closed, planned to have the infatuated girl left behind.

While Mr. and Mrs. Pierce were arranging to have their daughter unostentatiously dropped from the company with which she was playing, she stole another march on them by accepting an offer made by Weber & Fields.

In the state of Adrianople the Turks and the insurgents are both pillaging. The Turkish troops are scandalously ill equipped. The Turks profess greater confidence over the state of affairs in Monastir, since the success of their troops there.

EWING

And Not Ewen is the Real Name of the Captain, but it is Pronounced Ewen.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 31—The real name of Captain B. J. Ewen, the common-wealth's star witness in the Jett-White case, is not Ewen but Ewing. At Jackson the people pronounce the celebrated witness's name without the final consonant.

After the Marcum murder, when the newspaper correspondents who hurried to Jackson, they spelled the name as locally pronounced, Ewen. Later it was learned that Ewing was the proper spelling, but to save the earlier correspondents any trouble it was agreed to stick to Ewen, and when the star witness was asked about it he said: "Well," replied the star witness, "some call me Ewen and some call me Ewing. I guess you can spell it either way."

Tangiers, Aug. 31—A big fire in the Moorish quarter today was attended with heavy damage. The populace was thrown into a panic during which six were killed.

The Longworthy Confessions

[Original]

The Longworthy case was no mystery; at least that is what everybody said. Longworthy had come into the house that day, and Desmond was to go out of it in the morning. Longworthy's body was found in the library shot through the heart, while Desmond's revolver, one chamber empty, lay on the floor. When they arrested Desmond, though he had not been informed of the murder, he did not seem surprised; the pallor on his face deepened; there was a wild terror in his eyes; he made no denial of his guilt.

Desmond had every motive for the crime. Longworthy had turned up to deprive him of an estate he had supposed belonged to himself. Desmond had loved Katherine Page, who must marry the heir to the estate or forfeit her own property, worth a million.

The prisoner bore himself as one living in the horror of a crime. What passed between him and his legal defender was a secret, but after a conference the lawyer put in the plea of insanity and on this depended solely for acquittal.

The trial was short, the defense being confined to a theory advocated by the prisoner's counsel that Desmond had been made temporarily insane by the loss of fortune and the woman he loved. The plea was considered weak, first, because it was not proved that Katherine Page had decided to throw him off to save her fortune; second, because the criminal insane are not to be tolerated by society. The jury were out two hours, all this while discussing the leaving of the pistol where it was sure to incriminate the murderer, then returned to the court with a verdict of guilty.

Desmond was in prison a long while awaiting the execution of the death sentence. His counsel worked for him with all the zeal of one confident of his client's innocence. This was surprising, for, putting in a plea of insanity, which was by no means substantiated, the lawyer virtually confessed that the deed had been committed by Desmond.

One day the lawyer hurried into Desmond's cell and told him to prepare his mind for a relief which was so marked, so unexpected that it would be dangerous. Desmond looked up at him with a piteous expression of inquiry.

"Some time ago," said the lawyer, "I received a note from one who agreed to confess to the Longworthy murder if punishment could be fixed beforehand at a few years. Since then I have been working night and day to secure the terms. This morning secret papers were signed agreeing to a sentence of ten years, and the real murderer has confessed."

"Confessed?" said the prisoner wonderingly. "Who did the murder?"

"That is a secret which belongs to the state."

"The murderer's motive?"

"That, too, is a state secret."

Desmond walked out of prison a free man. He was in a singular position. The man who had supplanted him was dead, and he was again in possession of his estates. He asked after Katherine Page and was told that she had gone on a long journey and had left instructions that her whereabouts should be concealed from him. This only deepened the gloom in which he dwelt without bringing out any expression of dissatisfaction.

A year passed. One morning Desmond took up a newspaper and read:

A man died yesterday, who before his death made a written confession that he had killed the person supposed to be Philip Longworthy, but who was Philip Devin. Devin, by means of forged papers, obtained possession of the estate of Arthur Desmond, who was tried for his murder. The confessed murderer was to have shared in the plunder. As he did not, he went to the house from which Desmond had not yet departed and, obtaining Desmond's revolver, killed Longworthy, leaving the weapon to turn up prior to another. After Desmond's conviction a woman confessed the crime and is now serving a sentence of imprisonment.

The woman? She had confessed a crime she had not committed. There came a suspicion that this was a sacrifice with which in some way Katherine Page was linked.

Desmond seized his hat, eager to find some one who would unravel the mystery. He was about leaving the house when he received a call from the attorney who had defended him.

"Have you seen the article?" asked Desmond.

"Yes, I have come to announce that she who suffered disgrace and imprisonment that you might live, Katherine Page, has this morning been set free and is waiting for you at her house."

When Desmond entered the room where Katherine Page awaited his coming he found her as much under the control of deep feeling as he was himself. Till the real confession she had not known whether Desmond was guilty or innocent, though she had not the slightest doubt of his innocence. Now her own personal freedom was restored to her with his vindication and a restoration of her former surroundings. The two without a word were locked in a long embrace. The world that had been dead for them had again sprung into life.

Desmond had brooded so deeply over his loss that at the time of the murder he was in a state bordering on madness. At intervals he could not recall the recent past and was in terror lest he should kill the man who had supplanted him. When the deed was done it seemed to be revealed to him that he had done it. He was so far convinced of this that his attorney had no other recourse but to enter a plea of insanity.

IS GENERAL GEO. B. WRIGHT AT COLUMBUS.

Former Newark Lawyer Who Was Born Near Granville—Enlisted in 76th O. V. I.

General George B. Wright, who has been dangerously ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank C. Eaton, 398 West Fifth avenue, Columbus, rested easier Sunday. His condition is still critical however.

General Wright has been confined to his bed since last Monday. Two days before he had been about the streets.

General Wright was born near Granville, December 11, 1815, so he is almost 88 years of age. He was at one time a Newark lawyer. Both of Gen.
Wright's grandfathers were soldiers in the American revolutionary army and his father was in the war of 1812. Gen.
Wright was educated at Denison university, Granville, and at Western Reserve and Athens colleges. While located in Newark he joined the 76th O V I in the civil war and was appointed by Gov. Dennison assistant quartermaster general of the state with the rank of brigadier general. Col. James Kilbourne's wife is a daughter of Gen.
Wright.

PALESTINE FOR THE JEWS

ZIONIST MOVEMENT IS GIVEN IMMENSE IMPETUS—PLANS TO PAY
THE SULTAN FOR THE COUNTRY AND BEGIN COLONIZING IT WITH HOMELESS AND PERSECUTED HEBREWS.

Basle, Switzerland, Aug. 31—The Zionist movement, a movement in which is exemplified the sublime patriotism of the Jewish race, has been given immense impetus by the Zion congress which has been in session in this city for some days. Here are gathered in conference, one with the other, the millionaire delegate from South Africa and the calloused rabbi from Russia; and merchant prince from America and the robed sage from Asia Minor; the gifted literature from London and the savant from India.

The Zionist movement, in a nutshell,
is a scheme to repopulate Palestine with Jews and form a Hebrew state.
Dr. Theodore Herzl, a Viennese journalist, is the chief promoter of this Arcadian plan. He professes that the rich Jews over the world shall unite their millions, form a fabulous fund and loan it to the Sultan of Turkey in return for the privilege of colonizing the land of their ancestors. Another side of the proposition is to pay the great sum in a lump for a clear deed and sovereign rights to the country. The acceptance of either would give the backers of the fund a standing diplomatically and once accepted the civilized nations of the world would see to it that the new Palestine were given proper treatment by Turkey.

The Sultan was sounded on the scheme a few years ago but he was utterly unsympathetic then. In the meantime he has changed his attitude to some extent at heart. Delegates from Turkey were told before their departure for Basle that if the congress drew up a proposal the porte would consider it.

The Zionists do not for a moment expect to gather the Jews of the world upon the plains of Palestine. The prosperous Jew in America would hardly give up his home or his pleasant surroundings, neither would the Jew similarly situated in other countries. Cremlux, the famous French

Hebrew of Louis Napoleon's time, was an enthusiastic Zionist, and greatly interested the emperor in the proposed Arcady.

"Would you become a citizen of the new state?" asked Napoleon.

"Yes, your majesty," replied Cremlux,
if I may be the state's ambassador to France!"

The new state when founded will simply be an asylum for those poor Jews who have no home—a place wherein the poor people of Russian Israel may begin life anew.

The proposed fund has been called the Jewish Trust bank. If the Sultan agrees to the Zionist movement, this bank will furnish the money to first of all send an exploring expedition, equipped with all the modern resources of science to thoroughly overhaul the land from one end of the country to the other, before it is colonized, and establish telegraphic and telephonic communication. The direction of the work of colonization will be undertaken by two great bodies, the Society of Jews and the Jewish company.

The business of the Society of Jews will be to teach politics and statecraft and spread the Jewish propaganda.
The Jewish company entirely a financial institution, will be framed under English and United States laws, with headquarters in London and New York and a nominal capital of $500,000. Its task will be the regulation of economic conditions in the new country.
The work will begin with the poorest class of the people, preferably Arabs and Poles, who will till the ground and make the land arable; lay out streets, build bridges and roads, lay down telegraphs, according to plans prepared in London. Work will be given to thousands, and the agricultural advantages of the land will be brought to the surface. This work will bring trade, the trade the market and the market will draw fresh settlers to the country. And from these things will spring the new State of Jerusalem.

YOUNG MORMON ELDERS AT TEMPLE BUILT FROM A VISION

PILGRIMAGES TO THE SPOT IN OHIO THAT PROPHET JOS. SMITH
HALLOWED WITH A PLACE OF WORSHIP.

Kirtland, O., Aug. 31—Although there is but little sympathy between the Church of Latter Day Saints of this place and the Mormons of Utah, still the latter are fond of making the pilgrimage to the interesting old Temple at this place, built by the prophet, Joseph Smith, according to the plan
given to him in a vision, in the year 1834.

The illustration shows a group of eight young Mormon elders of Salt Lake, standing on the steps of the temple, built by their grandfathers when their peculiar faith was making such a sur in northern Ohio, before their hurried exodus to Nauvoo, and their final march across the desert to Utah.

Every summer similar parties come to Kirtland, with somewhat the same feeling that prompts the faithful Mohammedan to make the pilgrimage to Mecca.

The number of visitors to the temple

this season has exceeded that of any other; the Saints have fitted up the hotel so as to accommodate any who wish to spend a few days in the village and they expect that the attendance at the next general convention which will be held at Kirtland next April, will exceed that of any held in the past. Jos. Smith, Jr., a son of the prophet will preside.

Mrs. Mollie Allen, of South Fork, Ky., says she has prevented attacks of cholera morbus by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets
when she felt an attack coming on.
Such attacks are usually caused by indigestion and these Tablets are just what is needed to cleanse the stomach and ward off the approaching attack.
Attacks of bilious colic may be prevented in the same way. For sale by all druggists.
